Dear Bill:

I remembered vividly our visit at Magic Valley Christian College, and one part of one of our several enjoyable conversations came to my mind the day I received the announcement of your thoughtful gift of a year's subscription to Modern Age: A Conservative Review. I have felt the need for this kind of material for a long time. I simply hadn't taken the time to check into an intelligent source for conservative thought. As indicated to you in that conversation, most of the conservatives with whom I associate do not compel my thoughtful attention.

Your own convictions, coupled with those of others like yourself, have caused me to look at this matter a second time. Thank you for this generous expression. It simply reflects the kind of person I have seen you be in so many situations.

Your brother,

John Allen Chalk
